"Why, the idea of finding you in the kitchen! What on earth makes you scrub on such a hot afternoon? And why in the afternoon, anyhow?"

I had stopped to find a companion for a drive. I thought to see her resting in the porch swing, but instead I found her-scrubbing the kitchen floor,

At 3 o'clock of an August afternoon "Of course, one's floors must be clean, I agreed. "But why not do the scrubbing in the cool of the morning?" "I froned all morning and half of yesterday afternoon, so this is my first chance," she excused herself. "I have

Conserve Energy There are so many ways to save energy and eliminate discomfort in the doing of household tasks, if the mistress of the house will just let herself be converted. It isn't laziness, it isn't poor housekeeping-it IS conservation of health and energy. For instance, why spend hours ironing sheets? Put back on the beds unironed, they retain the sunshine and ozone which would be go further and eliminate the dish step further, and fuvor the new lunchironed out of them otherwise. And a washing ceremonial entirely. #### Every Flower Has a Story Of Its Own

The gorgeous orchid has been called the "belle" of the flowers. That significance is attached to it in the language of flowers.

According to a reliable authority, there are over 12,000 varieties. One species which blooms in Antrim is called man orchid, because it resembles very closely the form of a man wearing a large hat. Other species exist which resemble a lizard, a bee. told of him when commanding one of and a butterfly.

The vanilla of commerce is obtained from the seed of one variety of orchid which sometimes grows to a height of 20 and 30 feet. The name is of Greek origin. Orchis was the son of Pantellus, a satyr who presided over bacchanalian feasts. He behaved so badly at one of these, that the bacchanals seized him and literally tore him to pieces. The only concession they would make to his father's plea for mercy was that his torn body be changed into flowers, each piece becoming a different shape and

WHY RIGHT TIRES WEAR FASTER

The fact that tires on the right hand side of a car wear out faster than those on the left hand side often puzzles motorists. The popular supposition that this wear is caused by turning many corners to the right is incorrect, according to tire men. The fact is that the increased wear actually is caused by the pitch of the road, which throws more of the car to the right than to the left, the tire men say.
